

Leslie Kerby is an artist and curator based in New York City. She works primarily in drawing, painting, printmaking and collage to create thematically interlinked bodies of work focusing on issues related to how we lead our lives personally, as individuals, and to how our personal lives are variably connected to, and communities within which we live and interact. In addition to making and exhibiting her artwork, Kerby also acts as a guest curator with a number of New York art venues and institutions, such as Project ARTspace, and is a member of the Contemporary Art Advisory Council at BRIC Arts | Media, and a member of the Executive Board at Norte Maar for Collaborative Projects in the Arts.
